Activities To Continue During 'Turkey' Break

With the loss of students for Thanksgiving vacation, activities have been scheduled for students to remain in the BYU area.

Light begins the university of "Proposals: Proper, Aus and Preposterous," is the title for a trilogy of British folk comedies on a common theme—the marriage of a performance in the Arena of the Harris Fine Arts and begins at 8:15 p.m. It continues throughout the night at this time.

Students may be picked up at the Arts Center ticket office.

Twinkle Toes
Students in a dancing mood wish to attend the national dance in the gym of the Wilkinson Center today evening at 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. Admission is 50 cents, and will be provided by the Soft Socks. Two turkeys will also be away at the dance.

BING GRAIN has always, since the first Thanksgiving, been a symbol of plenty in a bountiful America. At this time in our country's history, members of THE DAILY UNIVERSE staff that people everywhere will pause to remember America's heritage and the blessings that have been ours. Thought and prayer should also be given for those who are not so fortunate as we are. May we all, during this season, consider what we can do for our country to make it a better place for all our brothers. We also consider what we might do as individuals to bring peace to our war-torn and still suffering planet. Drive safely to and from your destinations and have a happy!

Wilkinson Airs Race Policy 'No Policy Which Discriminates'

President Ernest L. Wilkinson surprised yesterday's Devotional assembly with the following speech here reprinted in its entirety.

During the past year or two BYU has received national attention because of protests and boycotts involving our athletic teams. Many of these have been made and carried out by misinformed persons who have made unfounded charges of racism against BYU and by their followers who have participated, not because they had any facts regarding the issues, but because it seemed to be the popular thing to do. Leaders, such as Hitler, regardless of their cause, can always find followers.

Realizing that you as students and faculty members are deeply concerned about this situation, I propose this morning, in a spirit of helpfulness, to discuss the situation for your information.

First, let us briefly review the events of this semester.

Although there were several incidents at athletic contests last year, national attention was suddenly focused on BYU this year by the events which occurred at the University of Wyoming. Before the game with BYU on Oct. 18, the 14 Negro members of the Wyoming team showed up in the office of Coach Lloyd Eaton wearing black armbands in disobedience of the coach's direct order not to wear the armbands. He dismissed all 14 from the team. This order of Coach Eaton reinstated the 14 black players as members of the Wyoming team and to enjoin the University of Wyoming, from continuing with the punishment that had been meted out to them. The suit also asked for monetary damages. On Nov. 17 the Federal Judge of the District of Wyoming refused to issue a temporary restraining order, which would have had the effect of reinstating the 14 Negro players. The case was set down for further hearing on the merits, although the court commented that every coach has an inherent right to discipline his players.

Prior to the Wyoming incident small demonstrations were staged at Arizona State University on Oct. 4 and after the Wyoming incident at University of Texas at El Paso on Oct. 25.

Denver Gathering
On Nov. 3 a meeting of Western Athletic Conference faculty representatives and athletic directors was held in Denver. At that meeting representatives from the University of Arizona Black Student Union registered their grievances: (1) they protested against the action of Coach Eaton; (2) they complained about the fact that none of our faculty representatives or athletic directors were Negroes; (3) they complained that the university had refused to pay their expenses to Denver. Later about 40 blacks, without invitation, some of whom were not even members of student bodies of the WAC Conference invaded the meetings and refused to leave. Thereupon the meeting was adjourned.

On Nov. 8 in BYU Stadium, the San Jose State team and coaching staff wore black armbands, injecting racial and religious controversy into an athletic contest, which BYU never has done.

Stanford Statement
On Nov. 12th, President Kenneth Pitzer of Stanford University issued a statement recommending a faculty-student committee, and without the knowledge of his Board of Trustees, publicly announced to the nation that Stanford would no longer schedule competition with BYU. It should be noted that President Shop open throughout the vacation except Thanksgiving Day. Shop hours will be 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Friday and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday.

"The King and I" an Academy Award winning film, will be playing every day, including Thursday. Students should call 375-3311 for show-times. There will be no week end movie in the Smith Auditorium.

Library services will also be available for those who wish to "give thanks" that they will now have some time to catch-up.

'Y' Students Hit New York For Vacation

Twenty BYU and Ricks College students are sure to see their Thanksgiving feast, even if they're too excited to eat it.

They'll be celebrating the traditional day under the lights and glare of Broadway at the exclusive "Mama Leone's Restaurant" in New York City.

The dinner is part of the "BYU Hits Broadway" trip sponsored for the second consecutive year by BYU Travel Studies.

Loaded down with baggage, cameras and tickets to seven Broadway shows, the students along with their director, Dr. Charles Mitten, boarded a plane for New York early Tuesday morning. Four hours after they arrived, they saw "Fiddler on the Roof" and "Coco," starring Academy Award winner, Katharine Hepburn.

After Turkey
Following their Thanksgiving dinner, the students will see the hit musical, "Promises, Promises."

Another area of popular entertainment, television, will be the center of interest Friday when the group visits the massive NBC television studios in downtown New York.

Dr. Mitten stressed that the trip's purpose was "to have fun," but also said that several special activities make it "a highly educational experience." He explained that each morning after seeing a Broadway show, the students hold a discussion period to analyze what they have seen.

"It is intensely educational for those people who are considering theater as a profession," he said. "We really get the works in terms of practical experience had not been directed at the players before they were black. The week before Coach Eaton had forbidden both black and white players to participate in the anti-war moratorium. He wanted their energies conserved mainly for participation as athletes in football games.

Later the 14 black players, with the assistance of the American Civil Liberties Union, filed suit in the United States District Court, asking the court to forthwith

Winter Carnival Events Spark New Mail-Order Ticket Sales

The Social Office introduces mail-order ticket purchasing in addition to the traditional method of standing in line for tickets for Winter Carnival tickets.

Mail-order selling for the Winter Carnival events will begin Monday.

Under the new plan, tickets may be ordered through the mail by clipping and completing the mail-order form which will appear in THE DAILY UNIVERSE next week. The form must be completed and sent with a check or money order to:

Winter Carnival Tickets
Room 329 Wilkinson Center
BYU

Mail-order tickets may be picked up at a "Will Call" desk on the third floor of the Wilkinson Center Dec. 8-9. According to the first letter of a person's last name, students may pick up their concert and dance tickets at the following times:

A-E 8-10 a.m.
F-J 10-noon
K-Q noon-2 p.m.
R-Z 2-5 p.m.

Students not able to pick up tickets on Dec. 8 according to the schedule may pick them up any time on Dec. 9. If a person goes to pick up his tickets and finds that he was unable to get the green seats he ordered, he will be refunded the difference in cost.

Students not wishing to purchase their tickets through mail order may still wait in line at the ticket windows.

Never Refused

This policy, in statement or in fact, in no way restricts anyone from attending BYU because of the color of his skin. This semester students from every state in the nation and 56 foreign countries have selected BYU as the university of their choice. Their color ranges from black to brown to yellow to white. Every race and so-called minority group is represented. Their religious affiliations range from Islam to Hindu to Jew to Roman Catholic to Protestant to Mormon. Certain

No Exploitation

At BFU we believe that every individual should be judged on his own merits and should have the opportunity to excel to the utmost of his capacity. Within the limitations of size imposed by our physical plant, our campus is always open to serious students of all races, colors, and creeds who desire to develop excellence in their chosen fields.

A warm October sun enveloped the scene of festivities in Plym. 1621. Eel pie, goose and venison, lobster, cornbread and pumpkin filled the long table. Red-skinned Indians spoke little while ravenously. Pilgrims gaily stirred cauldrons of soup, carved the ve and thought on this, their day of Thanksgiving.

Proclaimed by Governor William Bradford, the holiday feasting three days. The years following this feast saw many individual state Thanksgiving holidays until in 1789 President George Washington proposed November 26 as a national holiday.

After constant pressure from Sarah B. Hale, the editor of "I Magazine" (1828) who sought to nationalize the holiday, President Abraham Lincoln announced nationalization in 1863. The last Thursday in November was chosen because, by 1959, Miss Hale converted 30 states to her idea, represented by the 30 days in November.

So traditional had the date become that a national uproar followed in 1939 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt changed the day from fourth to the third Thursday of November because of the proximity to the Christmas holidays. In 1941 the old date was re-established.

However, hidden under all our impressions of turkeys and delicacies is the real meaning of Thanksgiving. Thanksgiving is a thanks.

Give thanks for your parents who have tried to guide you along the right path.

Give thanks for your citizenship in the United States of America land of starry-eyed freedom.

Give thanks for all the doors of opportunity open to your spirit soul by attending BYU.

Give thanks for all your past joys, whether they be good memories of good times or happy celebrations.

Even give thanks for your sorrows, for your joy is the mirror in your sorrow.

Most important, give thanks for being young and living now, year of 1969, D.V.A.

Office Of Athletics

The office of the vice president of athletics co-ordinates activities and assists in promoting the BYU athletic program.

Pep activities are administered by Gil Groer who heads the Committee. Pep rallies, Anti-Red Week, the visiting of residents by the pep groups and send-offs for athletics teams are a part of responsibilities of this department. In addition the BYU flag team, songleaders and yell leaders travel with the football and basketball teams to several away games.

The Cougar Band co-ordinates its activities through the A Office. Grant Elkington, assistant director of bands, also serve as adviser to the pep activities. A smaller 20-member pep band accompanies the pep groups to away games in basketball season. Young Men and the Cougarettes also work on their pep act through this office.

Working through the BYU News Bureau, the Public Relations Committee assists in athletic publicity. Plans are being made to develop student journalistic talent to write news releases for the News Bureau. In an effort to promote less known sports, this area of the A. Office is sponsoring a program encouraging coeds to invite athletes to Sunday dinner.

Lane Hinkley co-ordinates the efforts of AUNO and Camp Sodalitas in welcoming visiting athletes.

Dick Morrissey heads the extramural sports sector of the office, overseeing the expenditures of the rugby, volleyball, soccer, skiing, polo, bowling and rodeo teams. These sports are financed by the funds.

The vice president of athletics sits on the Athletic Ticket Board with the student body president and an appointed ticket board chair. The ticket board determines ticket policy for football and basketball distribution.

One planned change in policy for the distribution of bar tickets will enable students to wait in line to pick up their ticket in the west annex of the Smith Fieldhouse.

Operation Sock-It-To-'Em Highlight Winter Carnival

Combine 50 Pannanny parties, 50 enthusiastic students, more than 5,000 Christmas socks and you have lots of Christmas fun.

Operation Sock-It-To-'Em will be one of the highlights of Winter Carnival. Operation Sock-It-To-'Em will be a humanitarian project to gather Christmas socks filled with nuts, candy, small toys and gifts for underprivileged children in Philadelphia.

Operation Sock-It-To-'Em will be not only a better Christmas for those who receive the socks, but also be an uplifting project to all those who participate," said Clive Jones and Van Wagoner, co-chairmen of the event.

Students interested in participating in the project should sign up for the special Pannanny activity Monday in the Reception Center of the Wilkinson Center.

According to Charley Wright, Pannanny chairman, the Christmas spirit-promoting event will be Saturday, Dec. 6, from noon until 7 p.m.

"It will be the biggest Pannanny event of the year," explained Wright.

the same time He tells them, "Just settle it between yourselves: I be'n't no ways particular."

Written by the author of "Walking Happy," the second play, "Lonesome-Like," features a Lancashire lad, David Mitchell, catching Valerie McNicol, on the rebound from a Lancashire lass, Rowena Orr. The curate is played by David Irwin.

"Op-O'-Me Thumb," the third play, is about an appealing Cockney waif played by Liz Barbour, and the lad of her dreams, Rob Nuismer. Supporting them in roles are Carla Hendricks, as Madame Didier; Marilyn Jones, Mrs. Galloway; Betsy Lee, Celeste; Dana Olson, Rose; Mary Jo Cunningham, Alice; with sets by Scott Carr, costumes by Agnes Stewart.

We are still Pilgrims

We no longer give thanks around a rough wooden table in a forest clearing. Our problems and rewards have taken different shapes too, but they are basically the same.

We are still making a pilgrimage, the same search for a fuller and more fruitful life under freedom of religion. And we are still thankful for the faith that sees us through adversity and guides us on that pilgrimage.

Thanksgiving Day was named for its meaning—the day that we come together to give thanks for our faith and our full life . . . and to remember that we are still pilgrims.

This Thanksgiving Day, give your thanks, strengthen your faith, enlighten your pilgrimage, at your place of worship.

Devotion Confines, Says Religion Professor At Devotional

President Eisenhower in the White House.

Serving in the Spanish-American mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Dr. Cowan has since been a high councilman in the BYU 6th Stake and is currently a counselor in the 6th Stake presidency.

Speaking of free agency, Dr. Cowan stated that, "I am even grateful for the opportunity to make mistakes," because that also gives the opportunity to choose right. "We all want the opportunity to deviate, hopefully upward."

Concerning the challenges and difficulties in everyone's lives, Cowan said, "Not only do we have God's inspiration to guide us along the way, but we have Satan's influence." He added that he was grateful for "so-called handicaps and problems" and hopefully all would rise during these chances.

Dr. Cowan stressed that everyone should strengthen the relationship between God and man because, "the relationship between us and God is friends."

"I am very grateful for the atonement of Jesus Christ," he stated in saying that the atonement makes everything possible that he had talked about

Cowan asked that Christ be put into thoughts of Christmas rather than X-mas with Santa Claus and gifts and that as the season of the New Year approaches, "We will think of the Savior and make meaningful resolutions to put into our lives."

Following Dr. Cowan's speech, the BYU Philharmonic Orchestra played "Overture to Oberon" and accompanied the Oratorio Choir in a selection from "King David" after the Choir had sung "Thanks Be to God" from "Hallelujah."

President Ernest L. Wilkinson addressed the assembly to inform students concerning BYU's racial and athletic policy before its conclusion

As athlete of the week, Sutorius will receive a free haircut from the Williams Center Barber Shop and a free pizza from Rich's Pizza House.

By Bob Hudson
Asst. Sports Editor

Last Saturday the football season ended with a hard-fought loss to arch-rival Utah. The seniors on the squad vowed to go out winners, and although they lost the game to Utah they did just that.

They left behind a feeling of camaraderie seldom found in such large groups. Their winning attitude will undoubtedly be apparent in Cougar football for the next several years.

This week's athlete of the week, Paul Sutorius, summed up his feelings with a quote from Ernest Hemingway, "This is life. You lose, of course, but it's how you conduct yourself while being destroyed that's important."

"We did lose to Utah Saturday but no one gave up. I think we can be proud of the way we conducted ourselves."

Sutorius is a senior from Duarte, Calif., majoring in English. He participated in high school football, basketball and baseball.

Paul's career as a defensive back began four years ago in freshman football when he was switched from quarterback. The change apparently was beneficial as he became a three-year varsity starter.

He plans to teach high school English after graduation. He would like to coach too.

His greatest thrill in football? "I think my greatest thrill was being associated with the team this year."

Pigskin Prognostications

THE DAILY UNIVERSE board of prognosticators again unite BYU students and faculty to challenge its predictions of 14 top football games around the country this weekend.

Games are selected to include all Western Athletic Conference games as well as other top games around the country.

To enter the competition, simply clip the following list of games, circle the team you think will win in each case at the left, write your name and team number at the top and take the clipping to THE DAILY UNIVERSE office, 538 Williams Center before 5 p.m. today (Wednesday). Only one entry per person.

This week's guest is Jackie Sanders, a senior in history from Brawley, Calif.

CONCERNED ABOUT THE WAR?

- So are the almost 500,000 men who are presently involved in the Vietnam conflict!
- So were the more than 44,000 Americans who have been killed to date in this needless war!

We Americans are deeply concerned, as has been recently demonstrated, about the continuation of this costly and unnecessary war. If you, too, want to end the war in Vietnam, take still another step to tell our government and our friends around the world that our objective is to end the war NOW, and that our efforts must and will continue until our goal of Peace is reached!

Let us make this Christmas a "Christmas For Peace". Manifest your desire for a reassessment of the Administration's Vietnam policy by sending "Peace Cards for Christmas" to your friends, your Congressmen, Senator, Mayor, to the President of the United States — to everyone. Your participation will help strengthen the cause for an immediate peace settlement in Vietnam. Cast your vote on this most important of referendums, and let the message of peace be spread throughout the world.

Wrestlers Begin Schedule Saturday

by Gary Richins
Universe Sports Writer

Saturday while most of us are sleeping in the pleasant glow of a more-than-ample wintering dinner, the BYU wrestling team will be in the state of Montana, for the first of the season as they take a 1969-70 season with a "Dual" against Montana University.

of tournaments this is grueling type of meet because there are two matches on the same day.

The Cougars go into their opener with impressive credentials. Under the leadership of Coach Fred Davis, a former National Champion from Oklahoma State University (1955), the Cat Matmen have compiled an enviable 66-11 dual match record. Last year they lost the WAC Championship for the first time in four years—by one point to arch-rival Utah.

In spite of the fact that they lost seven seniors to graduation, the Mountain Cats remain strong. They have six lettermen returning from last year plus two that lettered in former years, one of them a former conference champion.

Rando Fehlberg, Wayne Fehlberg, Jim Pedersen, Glen Takahashi, Merrill Cook, and Ken Tams were all with the team last year. Kent Jeffries who was a conference champion in 1968, and Mike Terry, a 1966 letterman and a Viet Nam war veteran will also help the team.

Though this may be a building year in some weight classes, there are a whole roster of freshmen and junior college transfers who are more than eager to take over the top spot in their respective weight classes.

Some of the more noteworthy singled out by the coaching staff are: Ron Kenworthy, a JC Transfer from California where he was the State JC Champion last year, another "Fighting Fehlberg", Reed, who joins his brothers Wayne and Rondo on the BYU team.

ASK MARY . . .

I have never enjoyed any phase of my education as much as I have my correspondence courses. I have encouraged my friends, and several of them are taking these courses now. I have appreciated the fact that I can proceed at my own rate and set my own deadlines. The professors, for the most part, have taken a personal interest in me and have been most helpful in their suggestions.

Home study is an important part of our campus today, and I feel that it will become a vital part of our education in the future.

Mary Lynn Jensen

(Currently working to complete her sixth Home Study course)

If you want to solve scheduling conflicts, take advantage of vacations, graduate early, and enjoy the individual attention of the finest instructors, investigate BYU Home Study . . . or ask Mary.
